

Keywords: Selby Bay Phase, Projectile Points (Anne Arundel County, Maryland, Delmarva, Frederick County)

Bastian, Tyler

1974 Some Observations on Points/Knives Associated with the Selby Bay Phase in Maryland. Paper available on file at Maryland Historical Trust, Crownsville.

This brief paper summarizes attributes of Selby Bay and Selby Bay-like points and knives found on the surface of six sites in Maryland. Two sites, Ruf (18AN65) and Lerch-Roszbach (18AN61), are in Anne Arundel County, two are on the Eastern Shore, and two are in Frederick County. The stemmed form of the point type predominates in all of these sites. Thorough comparative tables are presented at the end of the paper that contain dimensions and other notable attributes of the projectile points.